

RAIN HALTS OILERS; BROWNS HERE SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Elements Prevent Abbottmen From Going Through Workout

Burkes Are First Big League Club to Play Games Here.

SQUAD IN GOOD SHAPE

Club Should Go to Post in Much Better Condition Than Last Year.

For the first time since they started practice a week ago Monday, Spencer Abbott's Oilers were forced to forego practice yesterday because of the elements. The ground was muddy and the outfield under water most of the day. The squad is in an advanced state, having been favored by splendid weather since the start of practice, so the boss decided a day's layoff would be better than to go through the motions of an unsatisfactory practice.

Providing the grounds are fit for practice today and there is no more rain a practice game will be played. The Oilers plan to go on with having the boys in the best condition possible when they meet the St. Louis Browns here Saturday and Sunday.

The games with the Browns are the first exhibition tips scheduled with major league club and are eagerly awaited by Tulsa baseball fans.

With the exception of Bay Quay, who is still in fine condition for this early in the season especially. The warm weather which has been hot since they started working has been of great aid in the conditioning of the players and should it continue they will undoubtedly go to the post this year in much better shape than last season.

Western League Clubs to Be in Camp April 1

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 24.—Before the end of the month all eight teams of the Western league will be hard at work rounding into shape for the opening of the baseball season. Some of the teams were at work by the middle of the month, and St. Joseph, the last of them, will be busily at it April 1. One player, Hogan, practiced at Oklahoma City. The other teams reported at their home towns.

Interest of St. Joseph fans centers in the man E. J. Hanlon, owner of the St. Joseph team, will pick for manager. He has announced that the selection will be made before April 1, but would give no intimation as to whom it would be.

SLUGGING POWER NEED OF BRAVES

Stallings' Team Has Fair Speed but Lacks Hitters.

Industries are not the greatest year in the history of sport. At present, the record is held by the Atlanta Braves for winning the 1914 National Association of the American League.

After two weeks of vigorous spring training and continuing the exercises, Myrtle Mine probably has a pretty good idea of what who among the ball teams and next Tuesday he will search these pictures in the hope of finding a champion of the season against the Atlanta Braves.
